DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species:

- a. Group I: Claims 1, 4, 8, 9, 17, 18, 19, 20, 27, 28, 29, 30, and 31
- b. Group II: Claims 1, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 21, 22, 23, and 24
- c. Group III: Claims 1, 5, 6, 7, and 25
- d. Group IV: Claims 1, 2, and 3
- e. Group V: Claims 1 and 10
- f. Group VI: Claim 26

The species are independent or distinct because claims to the different species recite the mutually exclusive characteristics of such species. In addition, these species are not obvious variants of each other based on the current record.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claim 1 is generic.

There is an examination and search burden for these patentably distinct species due to their mutually exclusive characteristics. The species require a different field of search (e.g., searching different classes/subclasses or electronic resources, or employing different search queries); and/or the prior art applicable to one species would not likely be applicable to another species; and/or the species are likely to raise different non-prior art issues under 35 U.S.C. 101 and/or 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

The election of the species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the election of species requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected species.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the species unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other species.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141.

2. Inventions I through VI are directed to related products. The related inventions are distinct if the (1) the inventions as claimed are either not capable of use together or can have a materially different design, mode of operation, function, or effect; (2) the inventions do not overlap in scope, i.e., are mutually exclusive; and (3) the inventions as claimed are not obvious variants. See MPEP § 806.05(j). In the instant case, the inventions as claimed have a materially different mode of operation:

- a. Group I is distinct from Groups II – VI in that Group I claims 1) additional pinch valves; 2) valves that can be actuated separately, independently actuated with respect to each other, or independently actuated with respect to application of negative and positive pressure to said pump chamber; and 3) flow rate control based on the duration of negative pressure applied or by direct control of the pinch valves.
- b. Group II is distinct from Groups III – VI in that Group II claims the structure and operation of a replaceable wear item and a manifold body.
- c. Group III is distinct from Groups IV-VI in that Group III claims material entering and exiting through one end of the pump chamber, a source of purge gas at the other end of the pump chamber, and the material is a powder.

Art Unit: 3746

- d. Group IV is distinct from Groups V and VI in that Group IV claims details of the flexible member of the each pinch valve and how that flexible member functions.
- e. Group V is distinct from Group VI in that Group V claims a transparent valve body.

Furthermore, the inventions as claimed do not encompass overlapping subject matter and there is nothing of record to show them to be obvious variants.
